Thought for the month

Pray!

Prayer is a Christian imperative as Jesus taught his disciples in the words of the Lord's prayer. How is your prayer life is a good question to ask a fellow Christian and just like our individual ideas about what God "looks like" there will be a range of different responses. There are of course many resources that can be used to help our prayers of all the different types that exist. The 24-7 prayer movement has many initiatives and examples of prayer (see <https://www.24-7prayer.com/>) and the founders are also behind the daily prayer app Lectio 365.

The Church of England has many resources both as books, magazines and online. Common Worship Daily Prayer offers four sets of daily prayers, some available spoken or recited so you can just listen.

The ARCH Benefice has held Morning Prayer meetings continuously. Originally meeting one morning a week in person, a small group (Community of Faith) meets online six times per week at 8.30 am following the Common Worship online using the Zoom platform. This small gathering of people from the Benefice and Evesham welcomes new people and has walked alongside those suffering illness and bereavement as well as celebrating the joys of life. It's a simple format and takes around 20 minutes. We pray for a different Parish each day and on Saturdays use the Northumbrian Community words and music.

The excellent Diocesan Prayer diary available as hard copy in our churches (though very few are actually taken, sadly) and online is also used to guide prayers for communities and organisations around the diocese and across the Anglican Communion.

Come and join us (see page 4) or start a prayer group. It's at the heart of our faith!

Fond Farewell to Fr Richard and Gill

On 6th July, St James's was packed-out for Fr Richard's final service in the Benefice after 24 years. Followed by a bring and share lunch, this was a fantastic opportunity for all parishioners to thank the Thornileys for their wonderful service to the villages.

Gill and Richard were presented with a wonderful painting of all of the churches in the village by local artist, Pauline Bamber, reproduced below (with apologies for the quality of the photograph). Church Lench parishioners presented a bench for their new home in Seaford and the generosity of all the Benefice led to a cheque which Richard and Gill are going to spend ticking off a bucket list item: a well-deserved cruise!

Fond Farewell to Fr Richard and Gill

Benefice News

This message was read out at all churches in the Benefice on Sunday 29 June:

Congratulations to Glenn Reading on his appointment as Rector of the Benefice of Church Lench w/ Rous Lench & Abbots Morton & Harvington (ARCH Benefice).

Glenn is currently Team Vicar in the Benefice of Christ the King, Redditch. He is married to Helen and they have five children: Phoebe, Toby, Edward, Henry and Thomas.

Please remember Glenn and Helen and their family in your prayers as they prepare to move. We look forward to his licensing and an opportunity to welcome Glenn to the Benefice on the 23rd November.

Further information to follow in the next edition.

A Big Thank You to...

We would like to record our thanks for the huge amount of hard work of Cathy Davies, editor of this magazine for the last 16 and a half years.

With a slight gap for Covid, Cathy has produced over 160 editions, developing the format and ensuring that the magazine contains a variety of content for all its readers.

A presentation was made to Cathy at Richard and Gill's Leaving Lunch; she continues to be involved in the Parish and we are sincerely grateful for her stewardship and care.

The temporary editor would also like to thank everyone for their forbearance of errors and omissions as he learns the ropes!

And a new Bishop!

Our diocese celebrates the wonderful news that Hugh Nelson will become the 114th Bishop of Worcester. His Majesty the King has approved Bishop Hugh's appointment, marking an exciting new chapter for our faith communities.

Bishop Hugh currently serves as Bishop of St Germans in Truro and as Bishop to the Armed Forces. Before ordination in 2008, he spent thirteen years with L'Arche London, a community where people with and without learning disabilities share life together. He then served as curate in East Kent before eight years as parish priest in Goudhurst with Kilndown.

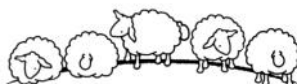

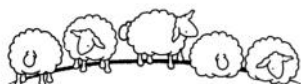

His approach to ministry emphasises faithfulness in our changing world, combined with curiosity about God's activity amongst us. He encourages bold responses through both traditional and innovative methods, always seeking the unity for which Jesus prayed.

Bishop Hugh married Lizzie, who directs Search for Common Ground UK, an organisation working for peace and conflict transformation. They have four children in their teens and twenties. The bishop enjoys gardening and watching cricket, rugby, and football, he's delighted to be living opposite New Road Cricket Ground.

We extend wholehearted support to Bishop Hugh as he begins ministry amongst us. We offer our prayers and partnership in the year ahead. Together, we shall continue building God's kingdom in our communities, supporting one another in faith and welcoming all who seek Christ's love.

May God richly bless Bishop Hugh's ministry and guide us all as faithful disciples serving together.

Musings...

Faith is the capacity to trust God while not being able to make sense out of everything. – James Kok

Nicene Creed 3: The Incarnate Jesus

For us men and for our salvation He came down from heaven; by the power of the Holy Spirit

He became incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and was made man. For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate; He suffered death and was buried.

This month, we are looking at what the Nicene Creed says about the ministry of Jesus on earth.

'For us men and for our salvation He came down from heaven': Jesus came down to earth to save us all. Salvation involves healing and rescuing us from the wrong things in our lives, which result in death itself. The Creed demonstrates the importance of having a proper understanding of Christ that safeguards the gospel of salvation. 'For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.' (Luke 19:10).

'by the power of the Holy Spirit He became incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and was made man':

Although the word 'incarnate' doesn't appear in the New Testament, it expresses the meaning of Jesus' birth. Heresies of the time included Adoptionism (i.e. Jesus became God's Son only at His baptism) and Docetism (i.e. Jesus appeared to be human, as a fully divine being). The incarnation affirms that the divine son, was conceived in Mary's womb by the power of the Spirit and born in time as a human being: 'The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy One to be born will be called the Son of God.' (Luke 1:35). If Jesus was not conceived both fully divine and human, the Christian understanding of salvation is lost.

'For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate; He suffered death and was buried':

In the Creed we move straight from Jesus' birth to His death, which is the climax of His ministry. Jesus dying for our sins on the cross lies at the heart of God's plan of salvation. The mention of Pontius Pilate roots our faith in history and reminds us of the important part people played in God's plan. 'He himself bore our sins in His body on the cross, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by His wounds you have been healed.' (1 Peter 2:24).

What is the place of the incarnation in your understanding of the Christian Faith?

On the Annual War of Pumpkin Growing

The latest in our missives from the Rector of St James-the-Least

My dear Nephew Darren,

Anyone who thinks that the English are a peaceful race has obviously never organised the annual pumpkin-growing competition. Very regrettably, one of the Pilgrim Fathers sent a handful of pumpkin seeds to a relation in this parish in the 17th century and ever since, the church has been obliged to hold an annual competition to see who can grow the largest. I suspect some of the original recipients of those seeds still compete. There is a certain irony that the church, which is supposed to promote peace and harmony, sponsors the most war-like activity in the annual calendar.

Mobilisation starts at the beginning of the year when seeds are planted. From that moment on, every other potential entrant is regarded as the Enemy. Once seedlings are planted out, then heavy armaments are placed at boundaries to deter possible invasion. By late Spring, paranoia has taken over and rumours begin to circulate of espionage and sinister undetectable herbicides. Anyone in the village with a beard is looked on with deep suspicion.

In the weeks before the competition, homes, partners and children are abandoned, as contestants talk to their pumpkins by day and snuggle up with them at night. Should bad weather arrive at this point, then I am blamed for not having prayed sufficiently fervently for sunshine and light rain. If only I had such influence.

On the day before the show, tables are put out and woe betide anyone who places their cake stand where Mrs Cholmondeley has put her tea urn for the past 25 years; she now believes she has squatters' rights to that place, and any challenge to her claim would probably result in litigation. I find this competitive spirit a little bemusing, as for the last 25 years, the Earl of Stowe has always won first prize. That his mother, the Dowager Countess, is the judge, is, I am sure, pure coincidence.

It has been tentatively suggested that another judge should be appointed, but no one has so far had the courage to step forward. They may have the privilege of nominating the winner, but they would also have to face a 12 month period of hatred from all those who were not successful. Christmas card lists will be amended. Families may have sat next to them in church for generations, but would suddenly find it more congenial to worship in another part of the church. Who could dare to take on such a poisoned chalice?

Your loving uncle,
Eustace
